

Dogpatchers Prepare Week Long Invasion

SETTING A "WOLF" TRAP are four NWMSC co-eds, Gaye Laughery, Carolyn Culver, Trudi Walker and Ann Porter in hopes of making a prize catch during Sadie Hawkins Week February 22 through 26.

So campus wolves beware! The lures are out; the traps are set, as the women go "wolf" hunting next week, stalking the footprints of campus males, enticing them into their crafty snares.

Local Grads Receive High Academic Praise

HIGH PRAISE HAS BEEN RECEIVED ON THE academic qualifications of NWMSC graduates.

According to information obtained by Dr. Sterling Surrey, chairman of the business department, from J. D. Hammond, a 1955 graduate of this college now teaching at Ohio State university, local graduates have received more grants from the Huebner Foundation for Insurance Education than graduates of any other college or university in the United States.

The foundation, begun in 1941 at the University of Pennsylvania, grants between seven and fourteen fellowships each year to pursue graduate work on insurance, finance, and economics. These fellowships are for three years and are worth approximately $9,000.

Who's Who Rules Out

APPLICATIONS FOR WHO'S Who are now available to seniors who will be graduated at the spring or summer commencement this year. They may be obtained from Dr. Surrey's office on the second floor of the new classroom building.

Seniors with an overall grade point average of 1.75 or higher are eligible.

Deadline for applications is March 25, according to Don Kixmiller, student body president.

Queen to Be Crowned Friday

Annual Phi Sig Frolics to Highlight Navy Farce

THE CONFLICT BETWEEN A NAVY CAPTAIN and one of his junior officers is the theme of the 10th annual Phi Sig Frolics, a comedy play entitled "This is the Captain Speaking" to be held in the college auditorium Friday and Saturday, Feb. 19 and 20.

The story is set in the rehabilitation center of a Naval Hospital on an island in the Pacific. When the officer in charge of rehabilitation decides he's not suited for that type of work and wants to be transferred to active duty, he runs up against a very obstinate commanding officer.

The Frolics will again be highlighted by the annual queen contest, which will take place in conjunction with the program. The contest will feature candidates from the various clubs and organizations on campus. There will be thirteen candidates entered, according to H. D. Mitchell, co-director.

QUEEN OF THE PHI SIG FROLICS WILL be selected in a preliminary contest held before opening night, and will be crowned at the Friday night performance.

Starring in the Phi Sig cast will be Jerry Durlam, Steve Moore, Doug Drake and Ron Kixmiller. Joyce McCoolle, member of the Tri Sigs, will also be featured in the cast. Master of Ceremonies for the program will be Dean Roberts.

Overall directors for the frolics will be H. D. Mitchell, and Richard Fleming. Fleming is President of Phi Sigma Epsilon.

Tickets for the program may be purchased for 75c from any member of the Phi Sigs, or by calling JUstice 2-4840.

WATCH OUT, BOYS they're on the prowl! That annual turn-about time when the men take to the hills with the gals hot on their heels is here again.

Yup, Sadie Hawkins week is coming up February 22 through 26. And, considering the fact that we're now well into Leap Year, ANYTHING can happen.

According to Peg Humphreys president of the Associated Women Students, sponsors of the event, this year's activities will also be known as "HER" Week — His Economic Relief Week.

ORIGINATED BY THE PRO-lific mind of cartoonist Al Capp for his syndicated strip, "L'il Abner," the period will include such unusual and welcome events as the girls inviting the boys on all dates, calling for them, helping them on with their coats and even (most exciting) footing the bills.

On Wednesday, Feb. 24 boys will be invited to Residence Hall for cards, television, and other recreation. HER week will be climaxed Feb. 26 by the annual Sadie Hawkins Dance in the Armory, from 9 p.m. to midnight.

So be on your guard, guys. This is the way L'il Abner got caught and nothing is impossible on Leap Year when Sadie Hawkins Week rolls around!

Greeks Active With Rush Week Events

By Bev Lyle
Missourian Society Editor

THE SECOND SEMESTER MEMBERSHIP DRIVE OF Greek social organizations is now in full swing. Sorority bids will be distributed Friday, Feb. 19 from 2 to 4 p.m. while fraternity smokers will begin Feb. 22.

With this week designated Rush Week by the Pan-Hellenic Council, Sigma Sigma Sigma and Alpha Sigma Alpha sororities held their final rush parties Monday and Tuesday, Feb. 15 and 16, respectively. The Delta Zeta's will conclude their rush activities tonight while tomorrow will hold the final event for the Phi Mu's.

The Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity will hold a smoker Feb. 25 in their chapter room according to Ed Jones, rush chairman. The executive council, Rich Fleming, Ron Kixmiller, Don Anderson and Doug Drake will speak on the more serious aspects of fraternity life. Clifton Schmidt and Bill Simmons will explain the responsibilities of pledging. Entertainment will be provided by the Tri Sigma Sorority.

Gusty Wind Fells College Landmark

When the almost 100 foot steel tube flag pole in front of the administration building toppled to the ground during a gusty, 30-mile-per-hour wind, Feb. 9, it was the fall of a structure that had served as a prominent landmark for nearly 36 years.

Cause for the collapse was contributed to water seepage between the two-layer, concrete and marble base. Separation of the pole occurred just beneath the ornamental marble foundation cap, leaving no measurable support.

Reconstruction of the same pole is scheduled for the near future.

Service Sorority Holds First Meet

GAMMA SIGMA SIGMA girls service sorority and sister organization to Alpha Phi Omega, held its first meeting Wednesday, February 10. The group will meet tonight for the election of officers.

During the Feb. 10th business meeting, a panel consisting of Shirley Noelck, Linda Reaksecker, Carolyn Boner, Mary Pritchard, Peggy Clingman, Connie Johnson, Jean Marsh and Donnette Maro discussed various aspects of the national and local chapter. Included were such items as organization of the local chapter, officers' duties, ideals and goals of the group and conventions.

SIGMA TAU GAMMA RUSH chairman Don Lacy announced that the Tau's will hold a series of informal parties at their chapter house during rush week.

Rex Burgett, Junior McLaughlin, and Glen Ramsey are in charge of rush procedures for Phi Lambda Chi fraternity. Bill Kurtz will act as master of ceremonies for their February 22 smoker.

The Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity will hold their smoker at the Elks Club Wednesday, February 24. Entertainment will be provided by Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority, according to Dick Henderson.

The men's rush week activities are co-ordinated by the inter-fraternity council.

TRI SIGMA RUSH CHAIRMAN Toni Skoglund reported the theme for their party was "Campus Life." Linda Thompson was in charge of entertainment.

ALL THAT JAZZ

Ode to An Eardrum

Science to the rescue! Feeling sure we'd be deaf on the morrow, we were about to write good ole gramps for his ear trumpet, when the bugology dept. assured us 'twould all be in vain.

It began when that mechanical monster used to grind the floor down to the size of the new linoleum began to operate outside our second story ad. bldg. office. Not only did it fill the room with a noise at least ten decibels louder than blast-off at the Cape, they had the audacity to plug it into OUR OUTLET.

It had just about reached the point where a scream for help would never be heard when NWMSC's expert on things anatomical, Prof. Trago Garrett, produced the news that, being a normal Homo sapien, we have inside each ear a small muscle which turns down the volume at such needy times.

Fortified with this information and an arm load of Mad Magazines, we headed for the favorite corner in the den and a soothing cup of coffee. That little earsaver may have been hard at work but there's no use overdoing a good thing.

BESIDES, THERE WERE BETTER THINGS TO DO with our hearing apparatus. No matter what may be said about the den, it has one definite virtue—the abundance of listenable music on its electronic organ grinder.

One disc in particular receives our complete approval. Ahmad Jamal (Poinciana, G-9, Volga Boatman and Jim Loves Sue, G-O) is still in the enviable position of being periodically "discovered" in various areas of the country. A relative newcomer on the jazz scene, the Jamal trio (Israel Crosby, bass, Vernell Fournier, drums) can be called a true ensemble: three giants with the same concept of a swinging beat.

We once overheard a critic's comment that Ahmad had excellent technique but rarely used it. This comes, we believe, from his musical adaptation of a Republican concept—economy. His tricky but intalizing style produces a highly humorous offering that takes complete concentration to be truly enjoyed.

DURING AN EARLY 1950's ENGAGEMENT AT THE EMbers in New York, the trio's subtlety and charm so eluded the noisy patrons that Ahmad walked off the stand during a set, packed his bags and returned to his alma mater, the Blue Note in Chicago.

His greatest acceptance in the East has been at the Spotlite Club in Washington where two of his "live audience" albums were recorded. It does our eastern blood good to see an Ahmad Jamal 45 spinning on the local lazy susan.

Another double-sided-disk worthy of the necessary coppers is Stan Freeburg's "The Old Payola Roll Blues," a satirical spear pointed in the proper direction

THIS WEEK'S "ONE TO BE REPEATED"—Guesting on the Ed Sullivan Show, Jan Murray claimed that "on the way to the studio" the traffic was bumper-to-bumper. "In fact," said he, "the cars were so close that when I pushed in my cigarette lighter, the lady in the car ahead said 'oops.'"

According to the caustic critics in the science dept., there now seems to be too much stress on the "4-D's"—drama, debate, "the dawnce" and datin'. The Russians may be ahead up there, but we can still challenge them to a duel in the dance hall.

Enough eclectic ramblin's for this week. Have a ball, and all that jazz.

Question: What is your pet peeve on campus?

Edward Purdin, freshman, Ed-dyville, Ia.:

"The people who really gripe me are girls who talk too much in class about their dormitory life."

Betty Hooker, freshman, Parnell, Mo.:

"My main pet peeve is that there are no telephones in Freshman Hall. It seems that all of the telephones are busy at the same time and I just cannot get a call through when I want to."

Betty Bridgewater, freshman, Hopkins, Mo.:

"I don't understand why we have to take two-hour laboratory courses without getting any credit for them."

Karen Anglin, freshman, St. Joseph, Mo.:

"My pet peeve is people that talk as though they were two blocks away when they are standing right in front of you. What they have to say is usually a lot of m-larky anyway."

Barrie Parks, junior, Moloy, Ia.:

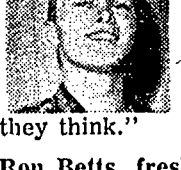

"My pet peeve is kibitzers at card games who feel they have to tell the players how to play their cards."

Tom Sayre, sophomore, Atlantic, Ia.:

"I get especially aggravated at people that squeeze toothpaste in the middle of the tube."

Bill Peterson, sophomore, Exira, Ia.:

"My main gripe is girls that put themselves on a high pedestal. They usually fall off it sooner than they think."

Ron Betts, freshman, Oelwein, Ia.:

"It is always too crowded in front of Residence Hall—especially at closing hours."

THE STROLLER . . .

AFTER OBSERVING THE WEATHER LAST WEEK, THE Stroller decided that Spring didn't last long. While shaking the snow off of himself, he had to chuckle at one unfortunate lad who had let his convertible top down prematurely and found himself with a car full of snow.

Speaking of weather, the Stroller has decided to start wearing hip boots to keep from sinking in on the college walks. When they are not covered with ice, they're knee deep with mud and water and provide a good place to go swimming or skating, depending on the season.

The Stroller also heard plenty of comments from local collegians about the monopoly on the date supply caused by the foreign invasion of Sig Taus on a recent weekend. Since he realized it couldn't have been looks or money that pulled in the girls, the Stroller found out the responsibility for this "date service" lies with a new organization called the "Freese Booking Agency."

Rush Week . . .

Evelyn Robison, Alpha rush chairman, reported the Alpha rushees were entertained in an atmosphere of sweethearts. "Sweethearts Through The Ages" was the theme of their party. Entertainment consisted of a skit, pantomime, and song by the new actives. Loreen Gould and Margarite Donaldson assisted with rushing details.

"DZ On Fashion Parade" is the theme for the Delta Zeta rush party. Patty Logan and Pat Harris are overall chairmen for their rush events.

PHI MU REPRESENTATIVE Mary Adams has reported that "Phi Mu Castle" will be the theme of their rush party. Alumni from St. Joseph and actives from Theta Kappa chapter of Phi Mu at Lincoln Nebraska, and Mrs. W. B. Shepherd, district president, will be guests at the affair.

THE STROLLER TRIED TO enter the Phi Sig Frolic's Queen Contest but they couldn't find a classification for her. But she intends to see the Frolics anyway. The jokes in the performance are supposed to be real gems, as rare as the times when Dr. Gayler buys coffee for Dr. Angman.

Since the Stroller is as busy as the phones in Freshman Hall, she will quite typing and start studying. Or better yet, maybe she can get in one of those perpetual card games now in style.

SCA Holds Kickoff Party January 30

A SECOND SEMESTER kick-off party for the Student Christian Association was held in the Union Lounge, February 4, with twenty-seven people present.

The party included games and group singing followed by a devotional, led by Betty McCaig, vice president. Lucie Taylor, SCA president, explained to the guests the goals and purposes of the organization. Karen Miller was in charge of the recreation program.

Refreshments followed the program, with Kathy Palmquist in charge.

Meetings are held in the Union Chapel at 6 p.m. on the first and third Thursdays of each month and all students are invited to attend.

OFFICERS FOR THE 1959-60 school year are: Lu Jane Taylor, president; Betty McCaig, vice president; Ronnie King, secretary; and Roger Blackwell, treasurer.

Sponsors are Dr. Irene Mueller and Dr. Joseph Dreps.

Book Club Meets Monday in Union

THE BOOK CLUB WILL meet Monday, Feb. 22, 7:00 p.m. in the Lakeview room of the Union.

This will be a re-organizational meeting. New sponsors will be Dr. Charles Rivers, Mr. Luther Blatt, and Mrs. Harry Sheetz. The club is a departmental organization of the English department.

Dr. Frank Grube, department chairman, announced that all students, not just English majors, were welcome to attend the meeting.

'Cats End 5-5 In MIAA League

THE NWMSC BEARCATS, expected to hold down last place in the MIAA circuit during preseason speculation, ended their league play in true dark-horse fashion with an even 5-5 conference record.

After suffering a resounding 65-60 defeat at the hands of the visiting Washburn Ichabods, Friday, Feb. 12, the 'Cats bounced back to pull an eight point victory over the heads of the Warrensburg Mules in an away-game the following night.

Warrensburg, which had won only one of 7 MIAA games, made it close until the last five minutes when the control play of the Bearcats pulled the game out of the fire, 69-61.

Gene Jordan, coach Moss' star forward, led the scoring with 24 points.

THE WASHBURN GAME here Friday was the last home encounter for the locals and seven seniors on the squad saw play. But it looked more like a wake than a celebration.

The Maryville quintet couldn't seem to get started. They were cold from the floor, they traveled, they fouled.

With both teams playing a slow, methodical, control-ball style, the visiting Ichabods, beaten 60-5 earlier by the NWMSC cagers, seemed out for sweet revenge.

They not only controlled the ball through the game, they outjumped the Bearcats on the boards, 37-32.

AFTER AN OPENING 3½ minute full court dance with neither team able to score, the Ichabods started the play with a lone free throw and the 'Cats jumped to a short-lived and lone lead of 6-3.

Then the visitors started, running the score up to 28-24 by halftime.

In the second period, the Washburn crew covered Gene Jordan, Jerry Mexnarich and Leland Jackson tight and proceeded to add to their lead, making it 49-40 midway in the last half.

The Bearcats cut into the lead and, with two minutes to go, got within one bucket of the Kansans. But then the Ichabods ran through seven straight points and iced the win, 65-60.

Jordan again hit 4 for Maryville, backed up by Jackson's 15 and Mezmarich's 14.

'Cats Topple Hays As Doyle Pins 7th

EYEING THE FIRST PLACE place slot in the approaching AAU district wrestling tourney here, the Bearcat grapplers extended their win record to seven by dumping Fort Hays 20-6 there, Saturday, Feb. 13.

The Maryville maulers have suffered only two defeats in this year's mat meetings.

Local heavyweight star Doyle Thomas gained his 7th straight pin this season and the only pin of the night as he handled Jay Secaret of Hays in 1 minute, 21 seconds of the first round.

OTHER MARYVILLE WINS were: 137-pound—Larry Green over Dean Rodell, 6-5, 147-pound—Ron Betts over James Moser, 3-2; 157-pound—Dave Moore over Bob Ballinger, 7-2; 167-pound—Larry Timmerman over Delbert Erickson, 7-3; 177 pound—Bill Waugh over Curtis Karr, 7-4.

Larry Sagers lost to Dale Volapka, 1-0 in the 123-pound class.

Maryville to Host AAU Championship Wrestling

NWMSC WILL HOST THE 1960 Missouri Valley AAU district championship wrestling tournament, Feb. 26 and 27. Individuals and teams from Western Missouri and all of Kansas will compete.

Invitations have been sent out to 25 colleges, 30 high schools and six YMCA clubs. A large number of entries are expected in 10 classes ranging from the 114 lb. class to heavyweight.

Although the Bearcat varsity wrestling team will make up the bulk of the local entries, the tourney is open to all interested individuals and information including entry blanks may be obtained from Dr. H. D. Peterson.

FIRST AND SECOND place medals will be awarded winners in each of the classes and first and second place team trophies also will be awarded, along with an outstanding wrestling trophy.

Official NCAA rules will govern the event.

Deadline for entering is Feb. 23. Weighing-in will be held at 2 p.m. Feb. 26 and the first matches will be held that evening. Final matches will be held Saturday, Feb. 27.

BEARCAT MATMAN, Ron Betts, tries to pin Bill Murray in the 147-pound division of the Iowa State match here. Betts pulled a 5-5 draw as the defending Big Eight champions squeaked through a 14-13 victory.

Feb. 22 Set for Playoffs

Couples Needed for Bridge Tournament

A MINIMUM OF EIGHT couples are needed to enter the 1960 National Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament, according to Dale Cooper, local tournament director.

February 22 has been set as the playoff day beginning at 6:30 p.m. The eighteen hands provided by the national tournament committee will be completed that evening, Cooper said.

According to tournament rules, the hands will then be returned to committee headquarters at the University of Massachusetts for scoring by Geoffrey Mott-Smith, author and contract bridge authority, who will determine campus, regional and national winners.

Air Force Tests Given Feb. 25

AIR FORCE CADET screening tests will be administered to interested male seniors by an Officer Selection Team in the Student Union from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., February 25.

Flight training is now available to college graduates, married or single, upon completion of a three-month officer training course, according to information released by the St. Joseph USAF recruiting office.

Applications must be made within 135 days of graduation. Under the Officer Training School plan, selected college graduates may earn second lieutenants commissions in three months at Lackland AFB, San Antonio, Texas. Following OTS, they will be sent to navigator training with full officer pay and privileges.

IN ADDITION, OTS offers non-flying officer training for men and women under the age of 27½. Top age for the flight training is 26½.

Dolphins Ready Numbers For Annual Swim Show

PRACTICE IS UNDERWAY FOR THE ANNUAL SIGMA Phi Dolphin swim show.

The girls have been assigned to numbers for the April 21, 22 and 23 program according to Peg Riley, Dolphin president. Although no title has yet been chosen, a rainbow theme is planned.

Swim members included are: "Pink Parfait," a comic number directed by Stephanie Johnson with Sally Thomas and Cleanne Ferguson; "Black Magic" directed by Cleanne Ferguson with Carol Lininger, Elander Barrett and Stephanie Johnson; "Violet Mist" directed by Edith Eckoff with Peg Riley and guest swimmers Harold Sims and Bill Needles.

Locals Earn 11 Top Ratings

THREE SUPERIOR AND eight excellent ratings were taken by NWMSC entrants in the third annual NODUET (Nodaway) speech tournament held here January 30 and 31.

Seventy-five participants from ten colleges and university in three states were entered.

Larry Brown and David Hansen, Maryville contestants, received two of the five superior (I) ratings given in the Discussion class. David Hargrave, Richard Borngesser, Kay Nation, Marguerite Donaldson, and Diane White received five of the fourteen excellent (II) ratings in Discussion.

JEANNE KRAMME received a I in Radio Speaking and a II in Oratory. Ron King and Patty Logan received II's in Radio Speaking.

Maryville judges included: Dr. John Harr, Dr. George Gayler, Dr. Harry Gailey, Dr. Berndt Angman, Mrs. Doril Pierce and Mr. Charles Hyde.

"Red Sails in the Sunset" will be directed by Ann Porter with Anita McIntyre, Judy Alford, Carol Thorton and Jean Roberts. Lucy and Janet Taylor will do a duet to "Rhapsody in Blue."

Peg Riley will direct "Green Eyes" with Retha Larson, Dixie Gomer, Sandy Lapsley and Sheila Duncan. Jean Driskel, Paula Osborn, Judy Van Ekern, Ruth Ann Hazelbaker and Corrine Ratcliff will do a number to the music of "Deep Purple."

Miss Bonnie Magill is the sponsor of the show.

SNEA Holds Dinner

FOUR NWMSC FOREIGN students were entertained by the Student NEA at a chili supper in the Horace Mann Cafeteria, February 10.

The students, Sally Omori, Nancy Yamane, Clementina Rivas, and Daniel Zimmerlin, spoke on some of the differences between our education system and those of their countries.

The members also discussed the annual SNEA-FTA conference to be held in March and the annual tour which will be held in April.

Repertoire Club Meets

THE PIANO REPETOIRE Club had its regular meeting Monday, February 8, at 7:30.

The program consisted of Donna Wood playing "Pavilions"—Shuman, J. C. Combs playing "Fantasia I"—Mozart, and Joel Pottinger playing "Intermetzo"—Brahms.
